

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction	1
Sandra Harding and Robert Figueroa

Part I	Sciences in Cultures, Cultures in Sciences
	AIDS, Crisis, and Activist Science	15
	Robert Hood
	Why Standpoint Matters	26
	Alison Wylie
	A World of Sciences	49
	Sandra Harding
	To Walk in Balance: An Encounter between Contemporary Western Science and Conquest-era Nahua Philosophy	70
	James Maffie
	Seeds and their Sociocultural Nexus	91
	Hugh Lacey
	Fallout: Issues in the Study, Treatment, and Reparations of Exposed Marshall Islanders	106
	Robert P. Crease
Part II	Classifying People: Science and Technology at Our Service
	Essentially Empirical: The Roles of Biological and Legal Classification in Effectively Prohibiting Genetic Discrimination	129
	Anita Silvers and Michael Ashley Stein

Rethinking Normalcy, Normalization, and Cognitive Disability Licia Carlson	154
Conformity through Cosmetic Surgery: The Medical Erasure of Race and Disability Sara Goering	172
The Wisconsin Card Sort: An Empirical and Philosophical Analysis of Presuppositions Regarding Flexibility of Cognition Sara Waller	189
Geography and Ideas of Race Naomi Zack	201
Queer Nature, Circular Science Margaret Cuonzo	221

Part III Tradition and Modernity: Issues in Philosophies of Technological Change

Technology in a Global World Andrew Feenberg	237
Creativity of Technology and the Modernization Process of Japan Juichi Murata	252
Contributors	267
Index	271